Overlaid on the right side is the Steam Workshop interface. It shows a list of workshop items with columns for visibility, build status, and post status. The items listed include:

Item Name	Visibility	Build Status	Post Status
gladiolus_3	Local	Building
gladiolus	Local	Succeeded
	Local
	Local
	Local
	Local
	Local
	Local
	Local

Below the list is a 'Type Filter' section with checkboxes for Model, Noctis, Lunafreya, Ardyn, NPC_MALE, Outfit solo, ignis, noctis, prompto, and Weapon multi. A 'Summary' section shows a small thumbnail of the green Moogles NPC.

At the bottom of the Steam Workshop interface is a 'Log' window showing the following text:

In the bottom right corner of the Steam Workshop interface, there is a green digital timer displaying '0:36s'.

Around the worrrllldddd. I've tried this game both as co-op and single player and even though the game shines brightest when playing co-op, it baffles my mind how so many dismiss the single player as unplayable. The closest comparison I could find is that controlling both characters at the same time is like playing an instrument (piano, guitar, etc); you have to disconnect your hands from each other to play them right. It's not something many people can pick up instantly, but after a bit of practice anyone can get into the groove.

Co-op is, as I've said, the mode I enjoyed the most (and from what I can tell it's designed around). It's probably best to see the single player as an added challenge extending the co-op part of the game. And with all these local co-op action games coming out it's good to have a puzzle game to chill out with.

The devs have also been updating with bug fixes and gameplay tweaks which is great.

If you play on keyboard I would highly recommend you remap the keys to something you feel is comfortable. But since this is a platformer you should play it with a controller, like all platformers should.. An exciting jaunt through a little time travel, mind reading adventure.

Choose your ice cream wisely.

Simple premise and art style. Great choice based gameplay.

https://youtu.be/V2Hh4NgmYd\_E. Dont bother getting it. the scenery is ugly and scarce. no custom assets for route builders to use. no new rolling stock or locomotives. Literally someone could just build this route without buying it. put it on the steam workshop and you could get it for free as all the assets are already in the game. A waste of money. shame the first british steam route in a long time is this lazy. I'm hooked...I will stop going to the gym I think...More fun at home playing with the kids and having a workout...;-). Uplink did a better job being a game about hacking computers. This is all just clicking on stuff and not actually thinking. It's also buggy as hell (the main interface randomly disappears).

Avoid!. Emma Hyundai's super kick is extremely crazy. The music to these are awesome. I wish there was a boss in them or something. I like the speed of it but at times even in advanced it feels too easy with the targest you have to shoot.

Theres a few good throw backs towards the end of the traks. It feels creative and can't wait for more from this team. and what game you guys come up with in the future. Keep at it and push on to more. and byond. First game like this I feel has what I'm looking for.

Awesome game! Really great thing to kill some time while doing nothing at work!. The Price of Survival was in my opinion my least favorite DLC out of all of them not the best tomb in the game, outfit, and weapons. Overall the sidequest and tomb were just pretty meh and I just did not like them very much it all.

- +New tomb
- +New side quest
- +New weapon
- +New outfit
- +Don't have to get gold in score/time attack

- Tomb was very short and not that interesting it was very basic
- Quest was also very boring and just did not get into it

Poo
$5 for 30 mins of gameplay
IMO worst DLC

. i bought this dlc and didnt get 2500$ it gave me 1500$ still a great buy im just unhappy about not getting every thing.
. One of my favorite childhood games , played the game out of it. I really reccomend it to an older age aswell its really fun and relaxing. Pro:
The sound is very good, could be an original orchestral score. Voice acting is decent.
As promised, some sections are very atmospheric and tense.

Con:
It's very dark, navigation can be frustrating when you get jammed in to corner.

Neutral:
Apparently there are 4 endings, the one I arrived at was definitely unexpected but not entirely satisfying, I may play through again to see the other endings, haven't decided.. I've got 20 years in the fireworks industry, they got a lot right with this. The game is a very early build, the controls are a bit wonky, but they're on the right track. Regardless, it's fun to play around with and $10 well spent.. This game is sooo freakin cute! I am very happy with this purchase. It runs great, even on under powered PCs, and it's nice to just sit down with a kitty for 15 minutes a day. I can't wait to see what future content this game has to offer. It's exactly the kind of game that casual users can just hop right into without instruction.
